The Character of Woodlore — Revealed

You can expect an innovative product that retains its functionality and good looks without excessive maintenance.

Advanced Engineering

Woodlore Shutters start with a premium, solid, MDF composite wood core. We employ only the finest MDF materials and technology.

UV inhibitors protect against color fading and yellowing. Our patented polypropylene coating resists staining to ensure long-term performance in a variety of environments.

Woodlore Shutters withstand temperatures up to 140° F. They won't sag when exposed to window heat. In addition, they resist cupping and warping, ensuring a tight closure and smooth panel and louver operation.

Built To Last

We are the only shutter manufacturer to use reinforced engineered wood for our stiles. This creates a robust support system for your shutter panels.

Inspired Innovation & Design

Woodlore Shutters gain many of their desirable qualities from Norman Shutters innovations. However, much of what goes into each shutter are enduring traditions of furniture craftsmanship.

Woodlore Shutters are available in a selection of classic colors and can be ordered with a variety of custom design options.
